Charting the Course

December 7, 2009

Dear Fellow Citizen:

I love being a Hoosier and so do my five kids. I have loved raising them in Indiana and I want them to have the same opportunity with their families. In order for that to be a reasonable option for them, we must have strong leadership at the state level; leaders who can provide the right environment to attract and retain good jobs and high quality of life.

That's why I am working to elect Mike Karickhoff to represent Kokomo as the District 30 representative in the Indiana General Assembly.

Mike is an experienced leader, having served eight years on the Kokomo City Council. He has proven his ability to balance budgets and be fiscally responsible for his constituents. In times of fiscal crisis, Mike has been a steady force leading us through the troubled times. Mike's strong leadership qualities inspired his fellow council members to elect him as their President in 2007. Perhaps the best true measure of a man's effectiveness is reflected in how his peers view him. Mike's fellow council members must hold him in high esteem.

I have known Mike for many years. I know him to be a man of faith, a devoted husband and father, and an eager servant to his fellow citizens. His breadth of experience has given him special insight into the needs of a widely diverse group of our community members. He will take that knowledge, wisdom and experience to Indianapolis and help guide Indiana to a bright future for all of our children.

Please join me in supporting Mike Karickhoff for state representative, District 30, to give our kids the richest inheritance we can give them: a great state in which to raise their families.

Sincerely,
